Executive Summary

Ten years ago, Western Region of Society of Saint Vincent de Paul took on the challenge that was initiated by Eileen Orysiuk and Sister Fay Trombley – to assist those in need living in Arctic Canada. They started with the Community of Tuktoyaktuk. The list of Arctic

Highlighted are the Arctic Communities served by SSVP Western Region

Communities and the support from SSVP across Canada grew. Today there are 3 Regions of the Society supporting those in need that live in 19 Canadian Communities in the far North.

Ontario Vincentians focus on Nunavut Territory, Quebec Region has their focus on Nunavik and the Western Region of SSVP works to help those in Northwest Territories.

We again are grateful to our corporate benefactors who make this project financially viable. The warehouse and transportation logistics, food supply and household product donations continue to be strong.

The COVID restrictions continued in 2021 and resulted in very little food donations from parishioners, families, and friends. However, many loyal supporters, foundations and charities provided cash donations that allowed for bulk purchases of the basic food security shipments to those in need in the Northwest Territories.

This project is managed by a team of SSVP volunteers. There are no paid employees. Team members are assigned a community. Their role is to develop knowledge and most importantly rapport that allows for an accurate listing of the community needs as well as a confidence of fair distribution of the product shipped. The team members try to make Community visits every couple of years however Covid has restricted this over the last few years. Team members also meet their contacts or Community Elders when they are in Edmonton on personal or medical visits.

Your continued support will allow the Society of Saint Vincent de Paul - North of 60 Project to strengthen and grow.

Thanks for helping us to help others, and blessings to all of you.

The Beginning of the Project

Sister Fay Trombley of Tuktoyaktuk, Eileen Orysiuk of Calgary and other members of the Society of Saint Vincent de Paul had no idea that the work they started over ten years ago would build to what it is today. The process of providing help to those in need in “Tuk” has been a success and has become the model for SSVP in all the Arctic Communities i.e., a location from which clothing and food can be stored, sorted, and distributed to those in need. Product is sold to those who have money and given to those who have none. Sister Fay and this SSVP Work has been recognized with the award of the Governor General's Polar Medal. The North of 60 Program in Tuktoyaktuk has expanded to include systemic change programs such as driver education, sewing lessons, and a wood working shop. These programs are led by the Hamlet Residents for their Community. Our Society and your donations provide the materials and equipment needed to run these programs.

Arctic Communities and the Southern Paired Conference

The SSVP Distribution Centre in Tuktoyaktuk

Tuktoyaktuk was the first Northern Community that our Society started to support. This Hamlet is paired with the Catholic Parish of St Andrews in Edmonton as well as St Michaels in Leduc. Pairing requires the parish parishioners and the Vincentians in the related SSVP Conferences in the south to be aware of the needs in the specific Arctic Community that they support. Sister Fay has had great success in Tuk. The Distribution Centre receives food, clothing, and household items from the parishioners at St Andrews and St Michaels. They load the sea cans with items requested by their Arctic friends. An even stronger collaboration between this SSVP Centre and the Hamlet is under development.

Paulatuk was first visited in 2014. A sea container of food and other items was shipped the following spring. Introducing the SSVP North of 60 program to this second Community allowed for a new strategy. Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Parish in Sherwood Park paired with Paulatuk. In addition to the shipment of food and household items in the sea containers, Vincentians provided building materials, siding, roofing, windows, furnace and utilities for restoring Father's House. Generous financial help from a Family Foundation has supported the restoration of this building for future use as a Saint Vincent de Paul Distribution Centre for the Hamlet. The plan for next year is to provide volunteer tradesman to be onsite for a month to catch up on the timetable that has been delayed because of two years of travel restrictions.

Father's House (1935) in Paulatuk, abandoned for 20 years, now being restored for SSVP food and clothing distribution

Inuvik is in the northern part of the Northwest Territories and the hub of activity for North of 60. This community has maintained a long-standing connection with Eileen Orysiuk, one of the founders of the North of 60 program and a parishioner of the St. Pius X Catholic Church in Calgary.” In following that tradition SSVP at St Pius X in Calgary is continuing the work with the help of other Calgary SSVP conferences. We started the year working to find supplies for a new homeless shelter in Inuvik, but issues have delayed this project. A sea container with food, mattresses, winter clothing, and other supplies has been provided for those in need. The plan for next year is to shift this sea can loading and handling from Edmonton to Calgary SSVP.

The Igloo Church in Inuvik

Tsiigehtchic and Fort McPherson (check out the video ) are south of Inuvik and are on opposite sides of the Peel River. The sea can was painted and prepared to be permanently placed next to the church in Tsiigehtchic. It will be available for storage and distribution of goods provided by the North of 60 Project in the future.

St Thomas More Parish Youth paint the Sea Can As happens in the North, the transportation logistics and the weather were not in synchronization. This sea can arrived at the barge to cross the Peel River too late and was stuck until the ice roads were opened for heavy truck transport. Snowmobiles were used to shuttle some supplies to Tsiigehtchic, and distribution of food was available to those in need in Fort McPherson.

Aklavik food was distributed in hampers on Thanksgiving. Non-food items were sold, and proceeds were spent on food purchased locally for hampers that were distributed at Christmas. In the past the hampers went to assist the elderly in the Community however this year with Covid, there are many young families living in food insecurity and these younger families have also received food assistance from our North of 60 Program.

Sachs Harbour with a population of about 100 is the smallest Community that is reached by our North of 60 project. As in Aklavik, the people enjoy the prepackaged meals and need clothing and bedding. With COVID restrictions, jobs are gone and unemployment at a high. All households receive the same items as they were preboxed in Edmonton This made distribution much easier.

The Barge Landing in Sachs Harbour

Fort Good Hope ( Kasho Gotine) have emptied their sea can. The donated hospital mattresses are in storage for emergency situations like floods, the two beds have found their way to a former homeless person who now has a place, and the other went to one of the flood victims. Much of the food product ended up in the original sea can. The rest went into the food bank. As the emergency around the pandemic is no longer active, the food bank has been busy, as has the clothing bank. We are preparing to deliver the quilts to the elders.

Our Lady of Good Hope Church and the permanent sea can storage unit

Ulukhaktok work is well documented in this article and other publications that feature the work of our great Vincentians in the city of St Albert. With COVID causing church closures, monetary donations were collected, instead of food items. These financial donations worked well and allowed for the safe purchase of food at a discount rate from Freson Bros, an Alberta Grocery chain. Food was palletized and wrapped. Nonfood items such as school supplies, sewing machines, baby items were collected in person at curbside. Since COVID NWT regulations prevented the Ulukhaktok school from preparing the normal breakfasts, food had to be individually packaged and distributed in paper bags to students so items such as granola bars and fruit cups were sent in bulk. Over the years Vincentians have had in person meetings with Ulukhaktok residents that travel to or through Edmonton for medical or personal travel. This practice continues.

What Products Ship

A list of the items typically in the sea containers is shown in Appendix 1.

Over the last few years, we have developed two basic rules of operations:

1. We ship only what the Community asks for.
2. We continue to support the Community for as long as they want us.

This approach requires the development of rapport between the SSVP team member here in Alberta and the Community contact member in the Arctic. Take a tour of some of the Arctic Communities that we assist by clicking on the North of 60 video .

Where does it all come from?

This year a special thanks to Cenovus Energy. As they upgraded their production facilities in Alberta, they donated to the Society of Saint Vincent de Paul several hundred beds for distribution to those in need. Many of these were sent up to the Arctic to our North of 60 Communities as well as a few Indigenous Communities around Yellowknife.

Communities around Yellowknife

Normally our preference in this project is to get small food donations from church parishioners and to involve as many supporters as possible to enhance their awareness of Arctic needs. We have enjoyed the opportunity to talk to young people in the Edmonton area to discuss with them the differences in living in the Arctic. Kids are very helpful with donations and spreading the word about the good Work of the North of 60 Project. We still get some donations from parishioners when we have a truck or a sea container in the Church parking lot, however much of the bulk food and nonfood items are collected in a warehouse and distributed in the sea containers using the professional assistance that is available by nearby companies. We are grateful that so many see the value of our Work and want to help.

Sea can in church parking lot

We look forward to post Covid times so that we can return to schools and other groups to promote the great relationships that the North of 60 Project has established.

Larger volume food donations were made by:

- $4600 of powder milk was purchased this year from the processor Medallion Milk in Winnipeg – money donated by Knights of Columbus Foundation.
- Dehydrated potatoes were provided by Gleaners in Oliver, BC.
- Cooking oil was donated by the Alberta Canola Producers Commission.
- OneMeal again provided high quality meal packs.

Sewing machines and fabric have now become a standard item for our shipments to the Arctic. We pick up used sewing machines from many private donors as well as both Johnson Sewing and Central Sewing, two large Edmonton retail shops. These machines are then refurbished by technicians so that they are ready to use

Mattress Pads from Albert Health Services

We have had many requests to ship sleeping pads to the North. There are often many living under one roof in these Arctic Communities. Again, Alberta Health Services came through with mattresses that are light weight yet strong, offering great support for the children and easily moved to the side to provide room for family time. Right Choice Camps and Catering continues to support us with bedding and linens.

Appendix 2 is a complete list of organizations with which our North of 60 project has established collaboration.

Anglican Support from Eastern Canada

Bales for the North is a program started by Anglican Church Women of the Diocese of Ottawa. They supply quilts, household items, clothing, baby clothing, knitted articles, etc. Since several of the Arctic Communities that receive sea cans from our North of 60 program are ministered by the Anglican Diocese of the Arctic, we have supported this program by piggy backing shipments to the Northwest Territory Communities. Again, this year COVID restrictions prevented them from building their bales, but they did send money that allowed for local Edmonton purchases of needed clothing that we forward to the Arctic.

Corporate Logistics Assistance

Logistics and transportation are the primary input into this program and without the support of the following companies this program could not continue. Warehouse space has been provided to this program at no charge for the last several years by Amnor Group of Edmonton. They also help with fork lift loading of pallets into the sea containers.

The North of 60 warehouse donated by Amnor Group

Transport is the most expensive aspect of reaching those in need in Arctic Canada. Loaded sea cans must be picked up from various locations around Edmonton, marshalled at the Manitoulin Trucking Terminal, trucked to Hay River, loaded on the barge to travel north on the Mackenzie River, unloaded at the final destination and then spotted or positioned in the Arctic Community for contents to be distributed. We thank the Corporations which help. We thank all of them for their contribution and we hope that they will continue supporting the Society of Saint Vincent de Paul in the future. These companies, like so many others, value the future opportunities that will result from working with the Peoples of the Canadian North.
